

DEALEROFFERS

The best local car deals. All in one place.

Warrington
Guardian N PHILIP HORTON AWARDS 2015 WINNER Winner of O₂ Team of the Year

3-Minute Chakra Test

START TEST NOW

NEWS SPORT WOLVES MORE

Natural health clinic charity day raises £900

Organisers Tracey Turton and Carol Robinson.

30 Mar 2016 / James Wilson

Share:     0 comments

Want more local news stories like these via email?

Your email address

Sign up

REFLEXOLOGY and massage sessions at a natural health clinic helped to raise £900 for the Children's Adventure Farm Trust.

More than 60 people attended the charity day at Cheshire Natural Health, on Tarporley Road, Stretton, and participated in the treatments on offer and listened to a series of talks.

Nine of Cheshire Natural Health's therapists were on hand during the course of the four-hour event.

Members of the public came away thoroughly relaxed and pampered after taster treatment sessions in massage, reflexology, reiki, endermologie and guided relaxation.

People were asked to make a minimum donation of £20 per treatment session.

A number of 45-minute talks were popular among visitors.

Medical herbalist Natalia Kerkham talked about how herbal medicine can improve your health. Colin Ayliffe, movement and lifestyle coach, offered healthy living advice to help listeners' achieve their potential as part of his talk on holistic living.

Nutritionist Celia Cooper dispelled myths about what we can or cannot eat in her talk on balanced nutrition.

To boost the charity coffers, staff at Cheshire Natural Health sold home-made cakes and held a raffle of prizes, which included treatment vouchers for the clinic.

Tracey Turton, owner of Cheshire Natural Health, hailed the charity day a massive success.

She said: "We had a fantastic day. It exceeded all our expectations.

"All of our clients who took part in the treatment sessions and talks really enjoyed themselves. It was a great success and a wonderful way to help such a worthy local cause."

To find out more about CAFT, visit caft.co.uk.

For more information about Cheshire Natural Health treatments, get in touch with the clinic on 01925 730123.

Alternatively, you can email info@cheshirenaturalhealth.co.uk.

Share:     0 comments

Promoted stories

Broker shares his joy of winning Rs 20000!

RummyCircle

Switzerland: the most scenic train journeys in the Alps

Passenger 6A

5 Best Free Team Management Tools

Webiot

Lifting Farmers Out of Poverty: How KickStart International is Helping Africa

Citi Blog

One Woman's Open-Minded Formula for Success

Citi Blog

8 Most Effective Apps For Internal Communications

Webiot